

LIFESTYLE / RESTAURANTS

Solo dining on Long Island: How to break the stigma and enjoy eating out alone

By Corin Hirsch corin.hirsch@newsday.com Updated January 9, 2019 2:00 PM

GATSBY'S LANDING

1362 Old Northern Blvd., Roslyn; 631-277-2318, gatsbyslanding.com

Befitting its name, this is the Daisy Buchanan of the list — 1920s Southern charm married to Northern polish, dim and sultry and impeccably designed, with the bar and high-top tables prearranged with settings to pull you in like a moth to a flame. Conversation with your neighbor can range from real estate to workouts as you nosh like royalty on fluke ceviche with avocado or robust squid-ink tonnarelli with blue crab, saffron and bottarga.

The beef daube, a Provencal stew with carrots and olives, at a setting for one in Gatsby's Landing in Roslyn