

LIFESTYLE / RESTAURANTS / ITALIAN

The best pasta dishes on Long Island

By ERICA MARCUS

erica.marcus@newsday.com

Updated October 17, 2018 10:22 AM

PRINT SHARE

Pasta is the undisputed champion of the Italian table. In Italy, it's traditionally eaten as a first course (primo). Here in America, diners are just as likely to order it as a main dish -- it's just that good. Every region of Italy has its own pasta specialty. Here are some Long Island restaurants that do them proud.

Cacio e pepe, Gatsby's Landing

Photo Credit: Daniel Brennan

Pasta is the star of the menu at Gatsby's Landing (1362 Old Northern Blvd., Roslyn). The cacio e pepe is a satisfyingly simple display of Pecorino Romano with fresh ground pepper and mint. More info: 516-277-2318, gatsbyslanding.com